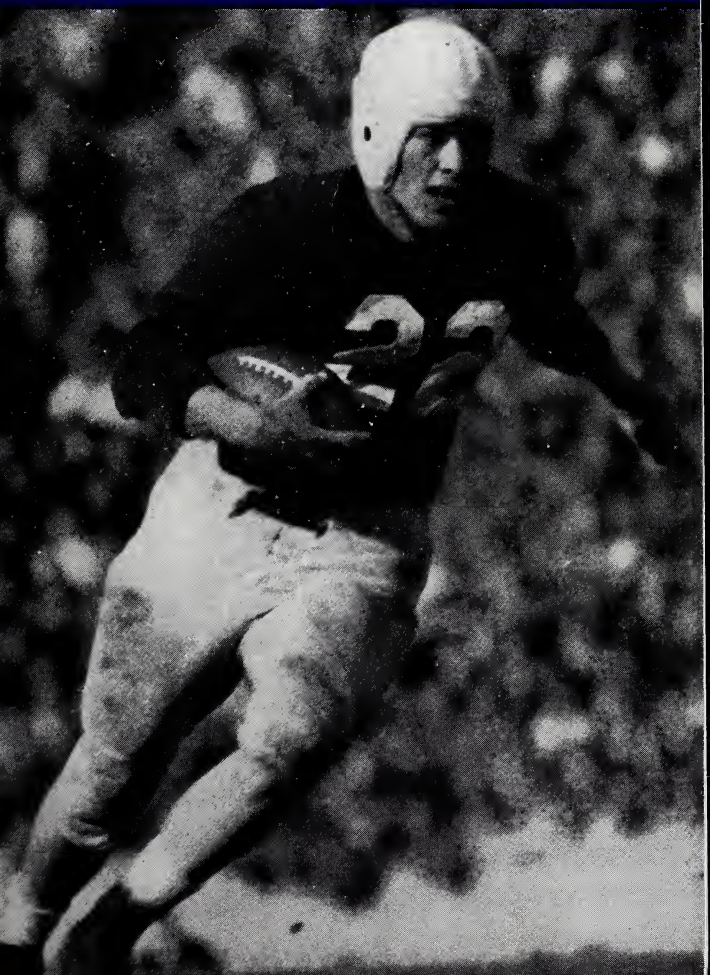
CHAPEL HILL



Gentlemen of the Press

Here is your 1947 Carolina Football Blue Book, with facts and figures we are hopeful will be of some help to you in recording the exploits, good, bad and fair, of the University of North Carolina football team this fall.

Any time you are in need of additional information, do not hesitate to call on us. We will try to carry a complete supply of releases, pictures and mats.

Our little bandbox press box, which we hope to have greatly enlarged and completely rebuilt before another season rolls around, likely will be heavily taxed with our five big home games this season. However, the invitation is out to you to be with us as many Saturdays as you can.

Please make your Working Press ticket applications as early as possible and we will do our best to fill them. It will be strictly a Working Press box this autumn—no women, no kibitzers—and we believe our insistence on this will please you. We solicit your cooperation in our efforts to improve working conditions.

Meet the Head Men

ROBERT A. FETZER, Athletic Director

One of the gentlest and kindest men in intercollegiate sports is "Coach Bob" Fetzer, the University of North Carolina athletic director.

He has been at his present post since 1921 although he was an active football coach, too, when he first came here. He previously had coached with outstanding success at Davidson, Clemson, N. C. State and Woodberry Forest preparatory school.

His record at Carolina speaks for itself. While he has not been directly in football during recent years, he has remained with one of his greatest loves, track. He has done more than any other man to promote track and field sports and intramural athletics in the South. His track teams have made enviable records.

In recognition of his interest and achievements he has served by appointment for several years as Chairman of the Southern Conference Track Committee and as a member of the N. C. A. A. Track and Field Rules Committee.

To his duties as Athletic Director and track coach were added the responsibility of the Department of Physical Education in 1936, when President Frank Graham appointed him head of that newly organized division of the University.

It was in May, 1936, that Fetzer Field was formally dedicated on the occasion of the Navy-Carolina track meet. It was a dream come true for Coach Bob, who long had visioned the day when there would be ample facilities to enable every student to participate in some form of sport.

Carolina has a fine athletic tradition. Coach Bob Fetzer has been probably its most influential source of inspiration.

Last June he was honored by alumni with an elaborate banquet in commemoration of his first 25 years as U.N.C. Athletic Director.

CARL SNAVELY
Head Football Coach

Carl G. Snavely has a nation-wide reputation as one of the game's finest teachers.

He began his college coaching career in 1927 at Bucknell. In seven years there his teams won 42 games, lost 16, tied eight. In 1934 he first came to Carolina, where football had become a shambles, and in 1934 and 1935 his Carolina teams won 15 games, lost two, tied one. He moved to Cornell in 1936 and remained there nine years, his Cornell teams winning 46 games, losing 26, tying three. His 1939 Ithaca eleven was undefeated and untied.

In 1945 Coach Snavely returned to Carolina where his first Tar Heel team in the new order won five games while dropping a like number.

Before going to Bucknell, Coach Snavely gained fame as a prep school coach at Kiski and Bellefonte where he turned out several undefeated teams and two of his editions laid claims to the national scholastic title.

His early teams at Carolina, in 1934 and 1935, were considered among the nation's leaders. Several of his Cornell creations enjoyed a similarly high ranking. The records of his teams are studded with many brilliant victories, including a host of the upset variety.

In 1945, following a season in which the Tar Heels won only a single game, he developed a combination which, at season's end, was a highly competent unit. In 1946 his team won the Southern Conference flag and a bid to the Sugar Bowl game.

Coach Snavely is an exponent of the single wing attack which he has developed into a high state of perfection. His offense features a versatile running and passing attack. He was a pioneer in the use of movies to help teach the game. Football has no closer student or harder worker.

He is 53 years old, a native of Nebraska and a graduate of Lebanon Valley College with several years of graduate study to his credit. He is married. Coach Snavely's hobby is golf and he plays a first-rate game.

MAX REED, Line: Graduated from Bucknell University. Coached for a short time in Pennsylvania high schools. Played pro ball with the championship Frankfort "Yellowjackets." Joined Mr. Snavely's staff at Bucknell in 1929. He has been with him ever since and is considered his right-hand man. Sits with Snavely on bench, rather than scouting. Melancholy Max is a quiet and reserved bachelor, but his laconic advice and comments carry weight.

J. RUSS MURPHY, Backfield: Graduated from University of Colorado. Coached for 14 years at Landsfield, Ohio, High School, where he made an enviable record. Holds M.S. in Physical Education from Columbia. Joined Mr. Snavely's staff at Cornell in 1939. Also a bachelor. He is the team's top scout.

JAMES PERCY GILL, Centers and Blocking Backs: Still another bachelor on the Carolina staff. Played tackle at the University of Missouri before beginning his coaching career. Coached over a seven-year span at Missouri, Washington University and Missouri School of Mines. Came to Chapel Hill as a Navy Specialist in the V-12 program and was an assistant coach here in 1943 and 1944. He then served an overseas hitch before coming back with Snavely last year.

CROWELL LITTLE, Jayvees: Former Carolina backfield star. Played one year under Ray Wolf and two under Snavely. Coached the Kings Mountain high school team one year before going to Davidson where he coached two years. Then he entered the service and remained with Uncle Sam five years, achieving the rank of Major before his discharge. Was overseas 18 months. Married.

GEORGE RADMAN, Ends: Another former Carolina backfield star (under Ray Wolf) who has returned to his alma mater. Previously was a freshman coach here and last season was on Jim Tatum's staff at Oklahoma. Served in the Navy. Quiet, clean cut, conscientious and earnest worker. Completed his work for a M.A. degree here last winter. Expected to be valuable man on Snavely's versatile staff. Married, one son.

Meet the Players

(Sketches of Outstanding Candidates)

LEFT ENDS

JOE ROMANO: Generally considered to be Carolina's finest defensive flanker. An all-state high school player at Mansfield, Ohio. Only five-feet-ten, he packs 200 pounds of football brawn. A starter in 1946.

KEN POWELL: One of the squad's most improved players. Came up fast during 1946 and was a star in the Sugar Bowl game. Hails from Danville, Va. Weighs 195 and is six-feet-two.

JOHN TANDY: This veteran first made a reputation when he scored a touchdown against Duke on an end-around play in the thrilling 13-13 tie in 1942. Three years in the Navy and back last year when he became known as the "Old Reliable." Fine pass receiver. Twenty-six years old but weighs only 175.

ART WEINER: This promising Newark, N. J., product scored a touchhdown on his first play in a college game. That was against Virginia Tech in the opening game of 1946. Although hampered by injuries later in the season, he scored four touchdowns and gained 52 yards carrying the ball on end-around plays. Big at 212, six-foot-three-one-half, he is very fast. His forte is pass catching and he has no superior on the squad.

KENAN RAND, JR.: Durham boy with good Carolina name, a Jayvee last year but hard worker who has been receiving much attention this season. Weighs 175 and short for an end, five-foot-eleven.

RIGHT ENDS

BOB COX: Former Marine from Memphis, Tenn., who was second to Charlie Justice as leading scorer on last year's team. He scored two touchdowns, kicked one field goal and made good 31 out of 36 extra point attempts. Good all around end as well as being the "Toe."

MIKE RUBISH: First taste of big time football for this well proportioned West Virginian came on the Seventh Air Force team, with which he played in 1943 and 1944. Tall and rangy, he is an opportunist, often plays spectacularly, sometimes guesses wrong. He is a two-season letterman. This may be his big year.

BILL PRITCHARD: Weighs 190 and is six-foot one-half. Worked himself up to be one of the best flankers on the 1945 team. Spent last fall at Annapolis where a fractured leg knocked him out of football. Returned to Carolina last winter quarter and now ranks high among the Tar Heel terminals. A Chapel Hill boy.

DAN LOGUE: A native of Clairton, Pa., home of Andy Bershak, Carolina's great All-American. Played both end and blocking back last year. He was a freshman at Chapel Hill in 1942 but had his education interrupted by Uncle Sam. He's six-foot-two, weighs 195 and has lots of football savvy.

MAX COOKE: Nineteen-year-old Kannapolis redhead who played some fine football for Carolina in 1945. He caught a touchdown pass in the Wake Forest game that season. A fine pass receiver.

LEFT TACKLE

HAYWOOD FOWLE: Rated with best tackles on 1946 squad although injuries kept him out of all the early games. A high school star in Miami before he came to Carolina for the first time in 1941. He makes his home at Washington, N. C., now. Weighs 195 and is a tough hombre.

BILL SMITH: Earned nickname of "Earthquake" here in 1944 when he starred on Carolina's luckless team of that year. Heaviest man on the squad at 250, he handles his great weight well. Forte is defense. Native of Lexington, N. C., where he was a star high schooler.

STAN MARCZYK: A 242-pound junior letterman from Nesquehoning, Pa. Built like a medium tank, he is very mobile for his size, does a nice job in the line. Excellent student.

JOE COSPITO: Nineteen-year-old Plainfield, N. J., giant, at 230 pounds, who is on the squad for his third season, gunnning for a letter.

JACK ROSS: One time Chapel Hill resident, now from Forest City, Ross played freshman football at Carolina in 1942, before he entered the Navy. Twenty-five years old and matured, he has run high among the left tackles since early practice started.

RIGHT TACKLES

LEN SZAFARYN: This 19-year-old junior from Ambridge, Pa., is about as tough as any 200-pounder playing football. He's tall and fast, and if he continues to improve, should make a good bid for All-America honors. Likes to play football, takes the game seriously and uses his size to advantage.

TED HAZELWOOD: An ex-Marine, 230-pound Ted is in his fourth season as a Carolina player. He's huge-shouldered, built for heavy duty, achieved stardom here in 1945 and stood out in several games last season, notably the Navy affair when he recovered a fumble to set up Carolina's first score.

JIM HENDRICK: A freshman on last year's team, Jim improved as much over the season as any other lineman. He hails from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., tips the scales at 220. Specialist in kickoffs and breaking up plays.

PETE RYWAK: A 200-pounder from New Kensington, Pa., who was outstanding on the Jayvee squad last year. Looked good in early scrimmages this fall.

LEFT GUARDS

BOB MITTEN: A baby-faced 195-pounder from Shippensburg, Pa., who intercepted a pass to set up Carolina's touchdown in the Sugar Bowl game last year. Very strong and a willing worker, this is his third year on the squad and he is expected to reach his peak. Plays his best ball when chips are down.

EMMETT CHEEK: Chapel Hillian and 28 years old, Cheek advanced fast last season as a result of his aggressive style of play. His early college football days go back to the Ray Wolf coaching administration. Expected to see a lot of action this season.

MAX SPURLIN: An All Mid-South prep school player at Baylor, Max lettered on the star-studded V-12 1943 team. During the war he played on the Great Lakes service team. Sometimes erratic, he has been known to rise to heights. He raises cocker spaniels.

BILL WARDLE: Agile letterman 190-pound guard on the 1945 team, returned from the wars. A hustler pushed up high on the list from the early days of practice. From Ambridge, Pa.

DICK McDONALD: Bulldog-faced, aggressive youngster from Durham, where he starred on the Durham high team. Promoted to varsity from Jayvees late last year. Hampered by injuries but with plenty of promise.

BEN PERRY: A Mr. Five-by-Five 210-pound Chapel Hill boy, freshman just out of service. Son of Chapel Hill fire chief and a young man with a football future.

RIGHT GUARDS

HARRY VARNEY: With three years service on squad but still only 19 years old. The "Toy Bulldog" is an impetuous operator who likes the going rough. One of the smallest linemen but one of the most spirited. Keen sense of humor and always full of pepper.

LARRY KLOSTERMAN: A broken collarbone sustained in the Florida game last season put this 200-pounder from Cumberland, Md., on the shelf for the rest of the year. He came back strong in spring drills and now is considered one of the team's finest linemen, both on offense and defense.

GEORGE ROBERTS: George came to Carolina via the Navy and V-12 in 1943 and decided to come back after the war to continue his education. He was hampered last year, from time to time, with injuries, but his outstanding play, especially in the Navy game makes him rate high in Snavely's plans this year. He stands six feet, weighs 215, and is rugged and rough.

CENTERS

GEORGE SPARGER: Mt. Airy product, co-captain and famed for his competitive spirit. Played end last year and may be used in that position from time to time again this season. Weigs more than 200. Co-captain.

DAN STIEGMAN: An alternate with Chan Highsmith last year, Dan took over the pivot post for good when Chan was injured in the Virginia game and did a fine job. He weighs 195, played one year at Williams College before coming to Carolina in 1945.

AL BERNOT: Tallest man on the squad at six-foot-four and one-half, Al was the 1945 center but was in the service last year. Mr. Stepladder is expected to divide center duties this season with Stiegman. He weighs 204 but still looks slender. From Newark, N. J.

JOE SWICEGOOD: As a freshman last year, this tough workman from Asheville, came along fast but broke his leg in the Virginia game when he was needed most. Again this fall, a cut forehead set him back in practice. But Bullet Joe, who likes to slice through, but fast, in line backing up, likely will help the Tar Heels a lot this year. Weighs 195.

JOE NEIKIRK: Nineteen-year-old from Portsmouth, Ohio, who was a prominent Jayvee player in 1946. Shows promise.

BILLY BAISE: Another nineteen-year-old center, sophomore from Raleigh, who was one of the state's finest high school players under Lee Stone. An indefatigable workman, handicapped by lack of height but sturdy with 185 pounds.

BLOCKING BACKS

JOE WRIGHT: A quarterback on the 1942 eleven, Asheville pal of Charlie Justice, Joe worked himself up to the starting job on the 1946 team. He weighs 205 pounds and is one of the team's hardest tacklers. Starred in the Suger Bowl game. Will share quarterback duties with Weant and Hartig, may be the regular starter. Co-captain.

DON HARTIG: Out of Mansfield, Ohio, home of many fine football players, Don is a buzz saw with the quarterback's gift of poise and cockiness. Underslung with his 185 pounds. Played fine football in 1946, should be better this fall.

BOBBY WEANT: Weighs only 160 pounds, but has intuitive football mind. Great play diagnostician as line backer. Star on 1944 team. Used as defensive center in Sugar Bowl game and played well. Comes from Salisbury.

PAUL RIZZO: A 195-pound letterman from the 1945 team who returned this year to play again for Carolina after a siege in the service. Was an able field general on the 1945 team and Coach Snavely was glad to welcome him back. From Clinton, N. Y.

BOB REYNOLDS: A third-year man from Shelby, Bob this year shows the results of long training with the Jayvees. Last year he starred for them. One of the squad's best kickers and also a first rate blocker. Blond and loose-goose with easy motions.

EDDIE KNOX: A freshman from High Point, hard working and full of hustle all the time. Weighs only 170 but he doesn't mind mixing it and he should have a good future at Carolina.

TAILBACKS

CHARLIE JUSTICE: The Asheville Choo Choo who, as a rookie last year, won acclaim as "freshman of the year." May be nation's finest broken field runner and is considered as an almost sure shot for All-America this year. Second string All-American his first year out. Led conference in scoring with 72 points. Fine kicker, passer and defensive man. Highly popular with his teammates.

JACK FITCH: Bad luck, in the form of injuries, kept almost constant company with Jumping Jack most of last season. In spring drills he was shifted from wingback to tailback. Fast and hard runner. Hails from Etna, Pa. Played with Doc Blanchard on 1942 freshman team, then starred on 1943 varsity. Outstanding student, member of the Order of the Grail and Golden Fleece, two of the top honor organizations on the campus.

BILL MACEYKO: Shifty little runner who played for Snavely at Cornell before coming to Carolina. About the same size of Justice and with many of that worthy's football attributes. Now lives in Campbell, Ohio.

BILLY BRITT: Former teammate of Justice at Asheville high, Billy showed flashes of great merit last season. He's one of the squad's fastest runners and is dangerous with the ball under his arm. Expected to play much more this season than he did in 1946 when he was a green freshman, despite a short hitch in service football.

DICK BUNTING: One of the better freshman players, nephew of one-time great V. M. I. back of old "Flying Squadron" days. Lives at Salem, Va. Only 18 and a rookie, but likely to break into the lineup this season. Good punter.

BILLY HAYES: Another Virginia boy, and freshman, also only 18, but with great promise. His forte is passing, but he promises to be a fine all-around player. Weighs 175 pounds.

JACK BRASINGTON: Sophomore from Coral Gables, Fla., who had his baptism as a Jayvee last season. Has been getting his chance with varsity men this year and has distinguished himself as elusive runner and clever passer.

WINGBACKS

JIM CAMP: Biggest surprise package on Carolina's Southern Conference championship team of 1946 was this Schoolfield, Va., boy. Light, he does not look like a football player, but he is fast and shifty, runs reverses with verve and cleverness. Also an alert and aggressive defensive man. Was Sugar Bowl game's biggest ground gainer. A key man in Carolina's attack.

JOHNNY CLEMENTS: Sophomore from Crewe, Va., short but compact, fine runner and kicker, superb defensive man. Used mostly on defense in 1946, but groomed to carry the mail this season, and he can do it.

FRED SHERMAN: Bespectacled freshman from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., who is sure to see a lot of action. Best all-around prospect among the new men. A brilliant runner and also with plenty of know-how about everything. Twenty years old and weighs 175 pounds.

FRED BAUER: An end on the 1944 team, Fred returned to Carolina last winter and was converted into a wingback. Starred in spring practice game, particularly on defense. Sure to see plenty of action this year.

FULLBACKS

WALT PUPA: This Pittson, Pa., young man heads Carolina's strong fullback department. Won a starting berth last year and was one of the team's stars. Scored his first college touchdowns against the Navy. Was a headliner in almost every game, including the Sugar Bowl party. Fine all-around player and one of the squad's most earnest men. A candidate for national honors.

HOSEA RODGERS: Sick and injured a great part of the 1946 campaign, Hosea never quite came up to the standard of his play here in 1943. From Brewton, Ala., he was a freshman at Alabama before coming to Carolina in V-12. A great team player and willing worker, he has been showing much of his old form and likely will come up to previous expectations during 1947.

BOB KENNEDY: A third year man, but still only 19 years old and light for a fullback at 175, Kennedy is one of the squad's speedsters. Once by the line of scrimmage this redhead usually is kissed goodbye. In addition to being fast, he is one of the line's strongest and most determined plungers. Ranks high on fullback list.

BILL FLAMISCH: Allentown, Pa., boy who is compactly built with his 175 pounds. May be fastest back on squad. From time to time he has shown extraordinary promise.

Carolina Has Three Captains

Shortly before the 1947 season opened, the Carolina football squad elected co-captains.

The choices were Joe Wright of Asheville and George Sparger of Mt. Airy, two of the club's most popular players and two of the best. Wright is a veteran blocking back. Sparger played end last year, has been groomed for both end and center for the 1947 campaign.

But squad members elected a third captain. This one will be a captain in spirit. He is the late Bill (Cotton) Sutherland of Laurinburg. Sutherland, also a blocking back, was a member of the 1946 squad. Last spring he was killed in an automobile accident.

There was no more popular member of the squad than Cotton Sutherland. A fine, upstanding young man, he had no bad habits except that he liked to drive an automobile fast. He was typical of his generation. He lives in the memory of his teammates and will be their third leader on the field this fall. Cotton was the kind of spirited competitor who had all of the assets of a captain.

TRADITIONAL RIVALS

The University of North Carolina's chief football rival is Duke—at least in the minds of the present undergraduates and younger alumni. But many of the old grads of 15 years ago and beyond that period like to think of Virginia as Carolina's ivy-covered foe.

From 1892 until 1927 the Cavaliers of Virginia took the measure of their Tar Heel rivals in most games. Since then Carolina has lost only three games to the Cavaliers. The rivalry between Duke and Carolina is further stimulated by the fact that the two universities are only 10 miles apart.

Series records through 1946:

With Duke—U. N. C. won 15, lost 15, tied 3. Points scored by U. N. C., 336; by Duke, 317.

With Virginia—U. N. C. won 25, lost 23, tied 3. Points scored by U. N. C., 719; by Virginia, 641.
